-Mr. Wm. S. Lemly is having a cottage errected on the Green lot immediately op-posite the Jackson Collegiate Academy. Harry Taylor has the contract. Residences are so very scarce, it is specially pleasant o note such improvements.

That well known and excellent gentleman, Maj. T. T. Hart, of Utica, was married on Tuesday, the 29th ult., at the Pacific House in Vicksburg, to Mrs. E. E. Irwin, of Delhi, La. The happy couple have the best wishes of THE CLARION.

There is considerable sickness in the neighborhood of the old St. James Hotel, in South Jackson, near the river. The building was recently torn down, exposing short, the whole is a section of wonder foul water that has been in the cellar for years. The place should be disinfected as horoughly as possible.

MIFFLIN, Pa., Oct. 1.—When Foreman Keeps of the Pennsylvania railroad was robbed and tied to the railroad track six weeks ago the company caused the arrest of all tramps found in the neighborhood. At the same time they employed a detective and a few days after the robbery a rough and a few days after the robbery a rough appearing man got off a train at Lewistown and walked up the track to Longfellow, where he found work with a gang of section men. He became the jovial one of the party and won many friends, and at last learned the secret of the robbery.

Three section men were arrested for the robber and it is said the avidance in the secret.

Three section men were arrested for the crime, and it is said the evidence is conclusive. The story of the robbery, as told by foreman Keeps, was extremely thrilling. He heard the night express coming before he had succeeded in freeling himself, and he could only release his feet by pulling them out of his boots. His wrists were so firmly bound that he could release only one hand. The fingers of the other hand were cut off by the wheels of the train which passed on the instant that he rolled his body clear of the rails. While lying beside the track of the rails. While lying beside the track he could hear the roar of the train. His struggles weakened him so much that he could not move for many hours.
